Therapist/Program Staff Disclosure Statement

Staff are trained to provide Individual and Group Therapy, with specific staff trained in Substance Use Disorders and some staff are also trained in Couples and Family Therapy. Staff use various methods of therapy, including a combination of: cognitive behavioral, existential, mindfulness, motivational interviewing, narrative, person centered and trauma focused, to name a few. Treatment is individualized depending on your needs.

Your billing information including cost per each treatment session, advance payments and refunds is outlined in the financial form presented at time of intake as well as anytime there are changes to your income or insurance. You do have the right to refuse treatment and the right to choose a practitioner and treatment modality which best suits your needs.

If you believe a therapist has committed unprofessional conduct, and/or would like to obtain a list of the acts of unprofessional conduct listed under RCW 18.130.180, please contact:
